Machine Leaders Get a Frost From Harding Concerning Federal Jobs.

Keystone Police Are Given Wide Advertisement by the Seelbach Riot.

Administration Shows Ingratitude to the Herald by Walloping Its Reporter.

CROOKS STAGE A FEATURE.

One must pity the poor old Hert-Searcy-Chilton Republican machine when it sees the desperate efforts made to save its face in connection with the appointments and plums being handed out by the Harding administration. Week in and week out we read of Boss Tohe or Boss Ches Searcy taking flying trips to Washington, and the special correspondence of the Louisville Herald, the machine organ, tells us that President Harding drops everything in sight when Tohe or Ches land in Washington. And when the Kentucky Republican bosses arrive at the White House the Herald says that Harding "smiles" out "Hello Tohe" or "Hello Ches" this is indeed a pleasure, and then the President turns to a few Senators and Congressmen gathered around and says: "Gentlemen you will have to excuse me now, this is my best buddy."

Then Wednesday night the Keystone police figured in the headlines again. Col. Charles Morrow and two Seelbach guests were closed in the station house, the story going that the two guests were disguised millionaires drinking whisky openly at the Seelbach and were pinched. Whether the "reform" administration didn't want the millionaires to get away from them or not is not known, but when a little 125 pound fellow from the Herald tried to get the news he was promptly thrown through the door by the police station keeper. Of course this is not hardly in line with the promises of the police and Chief Petty about giving all the news to the public, and is hardly fair to the Herald, which has faithfully done the bidding of the Hert-Searcy-Chilton machine. What splendid discipline the Night Chief must have over his police at night when week end and week out hawks of this kind happen in the station house. Whisky by the case has disappeared and stories of assaults and robberies are kept from the papers. No news comes from the Herald's night hawkers possibly to give the "fixes" an opportunity in the morning. They tell an old story of how a farmer visiting the city for the first time was taken to the races by a crook and persuaded to bet $2 on a race. After the race the nephew came back and handed his farmer uncle $14, the horse having won and paid six to one. The old gentleman gasped and said "How long has this been going on?" And this thing has been going on for years. What a harvest they have reaped and the National Surety Company advertises in the papers that this week that burglars and holdups had obtained $300,000 in forty-eight hours. Two safes were cracked and one of these was featured in the lobby of the Mary Anderson Theater, where following the regular vaudeville show an extra feature was given by crooks. Crooks were given "Knockout and Crackdown" by the theater safe and got away with $3,000, this little skill being much admired and applauded by our local crooks. It is needless to say they will respond to the end of the Keystone won't even have a clue.

SECOND TALBOT.

It is of interest that the last previous Catholic Lord Lieutenant of Ireland was also a Talbot, Richard Talbot, who was named to the position by James II. in 1687. The present Talbot was not always a Talbot. He was christened Fitzalan Howard but assumed the name of Talbot forty-five years ago in order to share the fortune of the Earl of Wexford, whose family name was Talbot.

SIGHT SEERS.

Louisville was well represented at the week in New York City, among the sight seers, pleasure seekers and business people there being Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Douglas, Mrs. A. L. Conrad, Misses Beesley, White and Ida Loewer, M. J. Baird, A. J. Strauss, Thomas P. Gatter, J. A. McWilliams, J. M. Mitchell and R. M. Clark.

HAPPY UNION.

A marriage of much interest throughout the Bluegrass section was that of Miss Anne E. Jacobs and Roger L. Mulloy. The ceremony was solemnized at St. Peter's church in the presence of the immediate families and friends of the bride and groom, the Rev. Father Punch officiating. The attendants were Mrs. Sloan Prather and Stephen Banahan. The worthy couple left for a trip through the East and upon their return will go to housekeeping in the country and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jacobs. Mr. Mulloy is a young business man and served overseas during the war.

PLEASED WITH REPORTS.

A large and enthusiastic gathering at Holy Rosary Academy on Tuesday night was thrilled with the reports from the Chicago convention of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic. Rev. John O'Connor presided and other hundred names were added to the membership. Resolutions were adopted protesting against the statements regarding Ireland by a Lexington pastor and educator, who was roundly scored by Miss Hunt, of the Red Cross, who delivered a stirring and patriotic address. The resolutions were ordered sent to the Kentucky State Board of Education. Rev. Patrick Walsh and Rev. John O'Connor gave a detailed report of the convention proceedings which were most harmonious and gratifying to every delegate. Miss Hunt's arraignment of England was convincing, and she predicted that a little more expression of sympathy and aid needed to secure from Congress the recognition desired. This meeting was one of the most interesting and satisfactory yet held.

CAST FOR PLAY.

The following is the cast of "A Kentucky Belle," which will be presented by the Dramatic Circle of St. Helena's Co-operative Club at St. Xavier's auditorium on May 17, 19 and 22 at 8:15 p. m. and Saturday matinee, May 21 at 3 p. m.: Misses Anna May Noid, Dorothy Dienst, Ruth Donnelly, Adelaide Schulten, Frances Lancaster, Anna May Campbell, Messrs. John Norton, Baldwin Wuersch, Henry Hinkle, John Lubbers, Arnold Kronenberger, Benjamin Dumstorf. Every preparation has been made for a high class production.

ABOUT TWO-THIRDS IRISH.

Miss Mary Edna Murphy, 2708 Sleivn street, is taking great pleasure in exhibiting the following letter from Gov. Morrow, received this week in response to her plea for the recognition of the Irish Republic: "Office of the Governor, Frankfort, May 9, 1921—My Dear Miss Murphy: I am in receipt of your letter and desire to assure you that I am in sympathy with the Irish people in their struggle for self-determination, for their liberties as a people. I believe in the purpose which fills the heart of the Irish patriot and desire to assure you that the time of Robert Emmet, I thank you for your letter. I do not know that you know it, but I am about two-thirds Irish myself, and can not therefore help loving Ireland and its people. With kindest regards and best wishes, I am, most sincerely yours, EDWIN P. MORROW."

MURDEROUS

Australian Catholic Bishop's Unanswerable Condemnation of Race Suicide.

Monsignor John Carroll Pleads For a Courageous Stand by All Catholics.

Church Regards Destruction of Unborn as Murder of Worst Type.

TENDENCY BITTERLY CENSURED.

Since the Protestant clergyman Malthus advanced his theory of voluntary birth restriction as a means of preventing over-population, the theory has been advocated and practiced by many, even in countries where the results Malthus wished to prevent were not apt to be realized. As early as 1830 the theory foundered under the weight of the facts, even now not over-populated, and as we learn from Australia, the evil practice has numerous supporters there in spite of the newness of the country. This tendency was hittingly censured and the necessity of courageous Catholic opposition to it emphasized in an address delivered before the Catholic Federation in Sydney recently by the Right Rev. Bishop of Lismore, John Carroll. The Bishop charged that the ignoring of the Christian principles involved in the need for equal distribution of life among the poor and the poor as among the idle rich and pleasure seekers that the vice prevails. At the same time it is right that our efforts should be made to provide for the equal distribution of life among the poor and the poor as among the idle rich and pleasure seekers that the vice prevails. At the same time it is right that our efforts should be made to provide for the equal distribution of life among the poor and the poor as among the idle rich and pleasure seekers that the vice prevails.

The Bishop strongly urged the preaching and repetition of these truths, stating that on the sacredness of infant life and the sanctity of marriage the "very foundation of national and social well-being exist." He appealed particularly to the Federation to carry out this mission. "Bold, courageous speaking at every center of the Federation," he said, "will help to form public opinion in accordance with justice and truth. It will help to brand with deserved infamy those wretched people who advocate or batten on these abominable practices." It is important that such "bold, courageous speaking" be done in our country likewise, for the evil condemned is widespread with us. Such activity, according to the Bishop, could not fail of producing desirable results.

A Sydney newspaper, the Bishop went on, briefly reported a case tried before Acting Judge Mocatta of a person having procured an unlawful drug. "The learned Judge made some comments that throw a curious light on how the crime of destroying or attempting to destroy the life of the unborn child is now regarded. If in the words of the Judge, as reported, the accused pleaded guilty, and had refrained from maligning the girl's character, he would have been treated as first offender. The other strange comment was this: 'As a man of the world one could not disguise from himself that such things happened, and that though they were not commendable still it might be said by some people that in certain instances excuses could be held out, such as in the case when a girl's character was at stake.' It is a thousand pities that the learned Judge did not condemn the practice as well as those men of the world who held out excuses for such abominable crimes. Whatever may be the view of the Judge, or the law, the Catholic Church condemned the murder of the innocent; no excuse of honor or shame can justify the taking away of the life of the unborn child. The church regards the destruction of the unborn as murder of the worst type, destroying the natural life and depriving ing at the same time the unborn child of its right to the supernatural life imparted in Baptism. The blood of the murdered child will cry for vengeance against all the agents and abettors of its murder."

Another evil of deepest turpitude is, the Bishop said, what may be variously described as race suicide, or the restriction of families by mechanical means or the misuse of marriage. "The purpose of marriage," Bishop Carroll declared, "is in the words of the catechism, to bring up children in the fear and love of God. The secular spirit of the day, the philosophy that ignores God and worships self, has perverted this holy sacrament to quite another purpose. It has made marriage a convenience, outwardly respectable, for the justification of the sexual passions, without accepting the natural and divinely ordained obligations. I say outwardly respectable, because in itself such a life is unutterably degrading and sinful. It is a gross violation of the natural and divine law; it robs God of souls intended for heaven, and degrades the human race. Such a life would be her mainstay and defense. It brings to lowest depths of baseness a sacrament instituted by Christ for a lofty and holy purpose. Some writers on the social question defend this evil practice on the ground of the poverty of the parents. But it is not so much among the poor as among the idle rich and pleasure seekers that the vice prevails. At the same time it is right that our efforts should be made to provide for the equal distribution of life among the poor and the poor as among the idle rich and pleasure seekers that the vice prevails.

and the nuns were hard put to it to make both ends meet. W. M. Gwynn, agent of the Relief Association, says in a recent report:

"The food supplied to the orphanage by the A. R. A. is of the greatest help, especially since the ration of the children have been increased 50 per cent. The elder children, aged fifteen and sixteen, were delighted with the first meal provided by the A. R. A. They told us to thank the Americans for their kindness. They needed this good food very badly, more so than the little ones who do not have to work."

ORPHAN SOCIETY PICNIC.

The attendance at the preliminary meetings of workers for the Catholic Orphan Society picnic on the Fourth of July is steadily increasing. Last Monday evening, much interest was displayed in the reports of committees, which indicated great progress. Much enthusiasm was aroused by the announcement that $205.51 had been collected by the Butten Committee at the Cathedral. This speaks well for the mother church of the diocese, and it is indicative of the assistance being rendered to the committee by other church congregations. This committee will visit St. John's, St. James, St. Mary Magdalen, St. Cecilia, St. Bridget's and St. Francis of Rome churches tomorrow. Thomas W. Tarry, of the Dining Room Committee, held a meeting of his committee immediately after the meeting, and organized by electing a Secretary, Treasurer, and other officers, who wish to help in the affair to come to the picnic next Monday evening. Tickets on the automobile were also contributed to the various parishes.

KENTUCKY STATE OFFICERS.

La Vega Clements, of Owensboro, was elected State Deputy at the State Council, Knights of Columbus, which convened at Frankfort on Tuesday. Other officers elected were George A. Burkley, Louisville, Secretary; Z. T. Campbell, Morganfield, Treasurer; Joseph Polln, Springfield; Advocate, and Charles J. Richardson, Elizabeth, Warden. Paul J. Meagher, Frankfort; the Rev. James I. Gorey, Covington, and R. E. McNamara, Ellettsburg, were elected delegates to the National Council at San Francisco. The State meeting next year will be held at Ashland. The report of the Secretary showed a gain of 25 per cent. in membership the last year. The council contributed $100 to the Old Kentucky Home fund. Resolutions were adopted and transmitted to the Americanization Congress at the Capitol endorsing the programme. Gov. Edwin P. Morrow addressed the Knights at the banquet.

The convention passed resolutions favoring the recognition of the Irish Republic, and also endorsed the Lafayette resolution, and directed the Secretary to forward copies to our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

THEIR ANNIVERSARY MASS.

On Sunday, May 8, at St. Andrew church, New York City, Mass. Evers celebrated the twentieth anniversary of the institution of what is known as the printers' and night workers' mass. Mass. Evers, who organized the mass, said the first mass on the first Sunday of May, 1901, and practically has celebrated the mass every Sunday at 2:30 a. m. for the twenty years. At first a special indulgent was granted by the Pope to Mass. Evers for ten years to say mass at 2 o'clock. This ten year permission was extended for ten years more. Again this indulgent was renewed by His Grace Archbishop Hayes on his recent visit to the Holy Father, and Mass. Evers begins on the third indulgent.

VISIT MARSE HENRY.

Saturday's Derby brought to Louisville two of New York's big men, James Butler, millionaire grocer, horse breeder and financier, and Judge Morgan J. O'Brien, Chairman of the American Association for Relief of Ireland. Sunday Messrs. Butler and O'Brien, accompanied by Mr. P. J. Harkin, of West Broadway, who is an old associate of the famous grocer, paid a visit to Marse Henry Waterson at his home near Jeffersonville. The great editor and Judge O'Brien are old-time personal friends, and the visit was greatly enjoyed. With the New Yorkers came a party of ten ladies and gentlemen, who were at the Seelbach while here.

CLOSES LONG CAREER.

The practical retirement of Bishop Burke, of St. Joseph, through the appointment of an administrator for his diocese, marks the close of a long career in the episcopate. Nearly thirty-four years ago Bishop Burke was appointed the first Bishop of Cheyenne. Four years later he was transferred to the diocese of St. Joseph. Bishop Harkins, of Providence, and Bishop Burke are the only Bishops living now whose appointments date back long er than thirty years. Practically during the past fifteen years the episcopate in America has been renewed.

VETOED.

The Idaho Legislature passed the act repealing the law establishing Columbus day as a holiday in that State. The Governor vetoed the act, which is ascribed to a resentment of the Knights of Columbus' outspoken opposition to so-called blue laws.

CLASS THEATER PARTY.

Members of the gymnasium class of St. Helena's Co-operative Club will give a theater party Tuesday evening to see "A Kentucky Belle," which will be given by the Dramatic Circle of the club at St. Xavier's auditorium.

IRELAND

Women Incarcerated as Part of England's Campaign Against People.

Fifteen Have Never Had Trial or Charge Preferred Against Them.

Recent Instances of Brutal Treatment by British Imperial Forces.

PATRIOTISM IS ONLY CRIME.

Twenty-six patriotic Irish women are at present incarcerated in jails in Ireland as part of England's campaign of terrorism against the people of Ireland as waged by the Black and Tans. Fifteen of these women have never had a trial nor has any charge ever been preferred against them. The other eleven are serving penal sentences imposed upon them by British courts-martial, which in some instances sat in complete secrecy.

The most recent issue of the Irish Bulletin, of Dublin, the official publication of the Irish Republic, gives deplorable facts concerning these patriotic women, many of them the mothers of young children. In giving details of the arrests the Bulletin points out that in England it has been decided in the interests of justice to allow women to sit on juries, especially where a woman is concerned in the case at bar. In Ireland, however, women of high position in national affairs are handed over to courts composed of officers who are admitted enemies of the nation.

The justice meted out by these military courts, according to the Bulletin, is illustrated in the case of Nurse Linda Kearns, of Sligo. The official report issued by Dublin Castle on the arrest of Miss Kearns charged that she was driving a motor car in which were riding Irish Republican troops. She was tried in secret at Belfast on March 11. Two weeks later Miss Kearns was informed that she had been sentenced to ten years' penal servitude. If the charges made by Dublin Castle were proved—and they were not—then Miss Kearns was guilty only of patriotism and humanity. For similar action in Belgium Edith Cavell was hailed as a martyr by Lloyd George.

Mary Bowles, fourteen years old, of Clogheen, County Cork, was sentenced to five years' penal servitude by a court-martial for having endeavored to rescue a machine gun which belonged to the Irish Republican army.

Other Irish women who are paying the price for being true to their flag include the Countess Constance Markievicz, member of the Irish Parliament, arrested for organizing the Irish National Boy Scouts; Miss Keogh, matron of the Benedictine Boys' College at Gorey, County Wexford, serving two years because arms were found in her home; Miss L. Hawes, of Cork, County Cork, serving one year for having national literature in her possession; Miss Coyle, of Roscommon, serving one year for having literature of the Women's National League in possession; and Miss E. O'Connell, of Dublin, serving two years for having ammunition in her possession.

Dr. Ada English, of Ballinasloe, County Galway, is serving nine months for having literature in her possession, while Miss Anita McMahon, of Westport, County Mayo, and Miss Alice Cashel, B. A., are each serving six months sentence, the former charged with having in her possession documents dealing with Dail Eireann, and the latter with possessing correspondence from Dail Eireann dealing with local government. Miss Hicks is serving three months on a charge of having seditious literature in her possession.

In addition to these there are fifteen women in various jails in Ireland on untried charges. Some of the women have been kept in constabulary barracks where there were none but men. Miss Shanahan, of Limerick, was confined for five weeks in a Black and Tan barracks, being the only woman there. Other cases of interest include the recent arrest of Mrs. Thomas Dillon, wife of a professor at University College, Galway. She was taken from her home and family of young children and confined in Galway jail. Her husband has been for some time sought by the Crown forces, hence the children were deprived of both father and mother. Mrs. James Ryan, wife of Dr. Ryan, a Republican member of Parliament and himself in prison, was arrested for refusing to exhibit a British military proclamation in the window of her home. She was taken from her little eight-months-old daughter and confined to Westford jail. Later she was fined $50 and released. Because she refused to pay the fine her furniture was to be seized and sold.

These are only a few recent instances of how the British Imperial forces treat the girls and women of Ireland, whose only crime is patriotism.

HICKERS WILL ATTEND.

The Hickers of St. Helena's Co-operative Club will give a theater party Thursday evening to see "A Kentucky Belle," which will be given by the Dramatic Circle of the club at St. Xavier's auditorium.

PRESIDENT'S DIFFICULTY.

There is one thing, above all others, that would help the President enormously in his efforts to secure a just and lasting peace, and that is the recognition of the Irish Republic. When we consider the influence England wields among the nations of Europe, which are more or less dependent on her good will where their spoils of war are concerned, we can realize the difficulty of the task that awaits President Harding to make the peace conformable to American ideas of justice, particularly since his predecessor went out of his way to make America appear little better than England's rubber stamp. Now with this in view, it is evident that before the President can command the support, or even the respect, of the other interested Powers, he must show that he is free from British influences, that he is actuated by no secret purpose to relieve England of a part of a burden she has found too heavy, and thus give her a chance for commercial recuperation at the expense of the rest of Europe; he must in fact show that he is above the suspicion of favoritism (favoritism is his legacy from the last Administration), and this he can do by recognition of the Irish Republic; and if he do this he can count on the support of every nation on Continental Europe.

WARNS AGAINST JAPAN.

If Japan in the near future does not try conclusions with the United States it will not be England's fault. War ships, submarines and airplanes are being built for Japan in English yards, and an army of British experts are training the Japs in airplane warfare. Add to this that our pro-British organs day by day print solemn warnings against Japan, that is to say are doing their utmost to increase our hostility to Japan while at the same time pointing out that England is our natural ally, and it will be apparent that war between us and the yellow island Empire is just what England desires. And why? Because Japan's growing influence in Asia is a menace to British domination, and because sooner or later England will be obliged to fight Japan to retain a foothold in that continent. Japan, even with England's aid, could not hope to beat the United States, hence we say that she will not challenge us in spite of England's urging. But we do say that the wily Jap will challenge England, in which event our hostility to Japan, now being so carefully manufactured, will prove of inestimable value to England.

INJURES EMPLOYERS.

The sensational advertisements running in the daily papers purporting to come from the Employers' Association are serving only to create distrust between employers and employees in every corporation, business house, store or factory. Abuse of all union workmen because of an error or even dishonesty of some labor leader or walking delegate is no farther than the abuse of all employers because of the grinding and crushing tactics of some corporation or business house. These insulting and abusive advertisements for the most part are gotten up by some misfit who has been a failure both as a business man and an employee. Business men and corporation heads who desire to be fair should put a curb on the activities of these trouble breeders.

A BOOMERANG.

After six Episcopalian Bishops of England had protested against murder and arson in Ireland wily Lloyd George tried to prove that the position of Ireland was just the same as that of the South in our Civil War. This silly contention has been hoisted and denounced from all angles so much that the English Premier and premier hypocrite realizes that his propaganda has proven to be a boomerang.

UNHAPPY OUTLOOK.

The Carsonites, who accepted partition home rule because it offered a certain means of destroying the Irish nation, are not happy over the outlook. The union of the Sinn Féin and Nationalist parties in Ulster has utterly shattered their confidence in their ability to carry "Ulster." The boycott of "Ulster" Unionist firms by the retailers of the rest of Ireland has proven a potent agency of "Ulster" discontent with the Carsonite leaders, the majority of the better class of workers having come to realize their actual dependence on the good will of Irish Nationalists for such prosperity as they can know. The probable result of this will be that a strong labor party of Nationalist tendencies will be returned from the manufacturing centers. This would spell the death of Carsonism.

ARE ORDERED OUT.

That the British authorities do not intend to permit a free expression of opinion at the polls in the elections for the Partition Parliament in Ireland is evident from the fact that American correspondents have been ordered out of the country until the elections are over. Every "moderate" elected to the legislature of Southern Ireland would represent a small victory for Lloyd George, hence it will be the duty of the authorities to see that, as far as they can help, no Sinn Féiner is admitted to the polling places. The outside world, however, must be kept in the dark, hence the correspondents of foreign newspapers must be kept away.

NEEDED LEGISLATION.

We want to see a man in the coming Legislature that will introduce a bill that provides a punishment or penalty for apartment house owners who will not rent to couples with children. Their action is not only a blow to morality, but a direct insult to the democracy of the American people. Dogs and monkeys allowed, but no children, has long ceased to be humorous. Men and women voters should demand a pledge of prospective candidates to support this much needed legislation.

WELL TO KNOW.

Just when the controversy over Yap has been brought to a head it is not pleasant to find out that British flyers have been training the Japanese in the latest achievements of aeronautics. Or course, Lord Northcliffe says that unemployment in England has much to do with the presence, just now, of British flyers in Japan. But that does not explain away the menace. Nor does it explain why Great Britain is so anxious that Japan should have control of Yap. Put two and two together, and there is no mistaking the side which Britain favors in the Pacific. It is well for us to know this.

COMMENT IS GALLING.

Of course it must be galling to Englishmen to read American comments on British brutality in Ireland. That can not be helped. British propaganda has tried to silence the comments, and it sometimes succeeds fairly well. It has never tried to abate the atrocities which are the cause of the comments. That would be contrary to British policy. But it can not suppress the truth forever. And all that is needed to condemn Great Britain to the lowest depths of infamy is for its deeds in Ireland and to become known. Only in Armenia can a parallel be found for the British atrocities in Ireland and still these go on, though the world cries out in horror.

FAST DAY.

The ceremony will be performed by Right Rev. Joseph Chartrand, Bishop of Indianapolis, assisted by two Bishops of the New Orleans province, of which Bishop Ledvina's See is a part.

After a tour of the country, Miss Mary MacSwiney believes the cause of Ireland has been advanced to a point where its independence soon will be recognized by the United States. The sister of the late Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork hses this belief on the state of public opinion she has found in all parts of the country. She has delivered more than three hundred speeches in favor of recognition of the Irish Republic, and everywhere, she says, the response has been enthusiastic.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

Banner crowds were again the rule at the Twin City games Sunday afternoon in Shawnee Park and some exciting contests were staged. The K. of C. club noosing out the Knights of St. John in a 10 to 8 game, after it looked like Manager Conner's boys were sure winners. Trinity gave no fright to its big following of rooters, winning all the way over Delisle by a score of 23 to 4. St. Xavier just romped in its game with Mackin with a score of 10 to 3, although Aubach, its pitching ace, had nothing on Murphy, of Mackin, whose support was very ragged. Tomorrow the schedule is as follows: Knights of St. John vs. Trinity, K. C. vs. Mackin, and St. Xavier vs. Delisle.

COLONELS AT ST. PAUL.

The Louisville ball team will tackle Mike Kelly's St. Paul club this afternoon, the first of a series of four games, and the fans will get a real treat in just how strong the champions of last year are. The absence of Hargraves and Rapp from their lineup does not make them so formidable as last season and the Colonels should beat them in the race for the flag. Our club is showing improvement in the pitching staff and the only player not hitting to his normal standard is Betzel, the best player in the league. Just now he is fifty points behind his regular gait, but is sure to get his batting eye in a few more games. From St. Paul the club goes to Kansas City.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Louisville Circle, Daughters of Isabella, will take place Tuesday evening, May 17, at K. C. Hall. Members desiring invitations for the non-subscription dance to be given by the Dance Club League on May 19 may procure same at this next meeting or from Mrs. M. R. Dougherty, 1805 Windsor Place.

FAVOR IRELAND'S CAUSE.
